

Biography of Dr. Yuqing Zhang

Dr. Yuqing Zhang, MD., who is an associate professor of medicine, is now working in the Division of Hypertension, Fu Wai Hospital, Chinese Academy Medical Sciences and Peking Union Medical College, Beijing, China.

He received his doctorate from the Postgraduate School of Chinese Academy Medical Sciences and Peking Union Medical College in 2000. During his training period, he was involved in several clinical trials including phase II and post marketing trials of several antihypertensive agents. He also involved in multicenter, outcome trials in hypertension including Syst-China, FEVER, CHIEF and CHINOM studies. He is the coordinator of the FEVER study which is the largest hypertension outcome trial in China. He has published more than 20 papers including many original research papers. He is the coordinator of the 11th National Five-year Plan Project- Chinese Hypertension Intervention Efficacy Study (CHIEF Study). He also works for the ongoing study of Chinese High Normal Blood Pressure Study (CHINOM).

He is the Treasury and executive council member of Chinese Hypertension League, the Vice secretary of Hypertension Professional Committee of Chinese Medical Doctor Association, the Vice Secretary of Beijing Hypertension Society. He is also a member of American College of Cardiology (ACC), European Society of Hypertension (ESH), Council of High Blood Pressure Research of American Heart Associate (AHA). He serves as a member of Editorial Board of Journal of Hypertension (ISH/ESH), Chinese Journal of Hypertension, Journal of American College of Cardiology (Chinese Edition). He is also a member of the writing group of the 2005/2010 Chinese Hypertension Guidelines.