Dear Colleagues,

It is our pleasure to invite you to participate in The 4th International Conference on Prehypertension, Hypertension and Cardio Metabolic Syndrome, which will take place in Venice, Italy from March 3 – 6, 2016.

Prehypertension is usually associated with other components of the metabolic syndrome i.e. obesity, glucose intolerance and dyslipidemia. This association is due to common mechanistic pathways and has implications on cardiovascular complications. Diet and exercise with or without drug therapy benefit all components of the metabolic syndrome. Antihypertensive medications may lead to deterioration in glucose tolerance while glucose lowering agents may affect blood pressure. Thus, any discussion about the approach to prehypertension must be done in context to the whole cardio metabolic risk.

The association of multiple CV risk factors enhances rate of progression of end organ damage and affects morbidity and mortality. The presence of multiple risk factors changes the prognosis of the patients and should affect our therapeutic approach- an area with insufficient information and guidelines.

Systolic blood pressure (BP) of less than 140 mm Hg and diastolic BP of less than 90 mm Hg were for years considered as normal. Mounting evidence suggest that BP in the high reference range is associated with an increased risk of cardiovascular disease. The ESH report of 2006 defined it as “high normal” and the seventh report of the Join National Committee on the Prevention, Detection, Evaluation and Treatment of High Blood Pressure defined a new BP category “Prehypertension” for systolic and diastolic BP: 120 to 139 mm Hg and 85 to 89 mm Hg, respectively. This new category is a continuum to hypertension and is a risk factor for cardiovascular disease.

In most developing countries and in the urban areas of many countries, one in five to one in three adults fall in the category of prehypertension. Recommendation and guidelines in the field have substantial public health importance and enormous economic consequences.

The Conference will aim to deal with all aspects related to early diagnosis, including innovative technologies and treatments and will bring together professionals from the fields of Hypertension, Nephrology, Endocrinology, Internal Medicine, Cardiology and more.

We hope that you will join us for what promises to be a stimulating professional and educational event and look forward to welcoming you to Venice.

Yours sincerely,

The exhibition organizer reserves the right to determine at what point activities have to be reduced, respectively sound constitutes interference with others and if it must be discontinued. Outside the stand surface promotional activities are not allowed.

Neither is it allowed to affix any kind of promotional material to walls, columns or any other object of the SB. In case of non-compliance the exhibitor shall be liable for any damages. Sponsors and exhibitors are not allowed to stage their own scientific and/or social events - be it inside or outside the Conference venue - parallel to the Conference program without prior approval by the Conference organizer.
Damages / Safety / Insurance
Exhibitors are entirely liable for damages caused to third parties’ stands, properties, health (be injury or death). To this extent Paragon Group and the SB are to be considered third parties. Exhibitors’ liabilities are extended to their personnel and/or other people working under their control. Paragon Group and its staff as well as the SB are not liable for any damage and/or loss suffered by the exhibitors’ goods during the exhibition, including installation and dismantling. The exhibition hall will be locked over night; a general guarding service is not planned.

Amendments to the Rules
The rules and regulations may be amended at any time by the organizer and all amendments so made shall be binding on exhibitors equally with the foregoing rules and regulations. Any matters not specifically covered by the preceding rules shall be subject solely to the decision of the organizer.

“Force Majeure”
If the exhibition has to be cancelled or changed due to unforeseen political and economic events, or general “force majeure”, the organizer cannot be claimed for any compensation.

Place of Legal Performance and Venue
Should the parties involved disagree on any point, they are subject to the official court of Geneva, Switzerland, thus Swiss law will be applied.
